

For all educators using ICT in teaching and learning

With Keynote Speakers, workshops and concurrent presentations to interest educators from Primary School and Middle School teachers, those integrating ICT into teaching and learning environments, right through to those implementing the courses of study in Years 11 and 12, the ECAWA Conference has plenty for everyone and will allow delegates to attend two Keynote Addresses and up to nine concurrent presentations over the two days of the Conference.

Web 2+ Technologies at the ECAWA 2007 State Conference

Friday's Keynote Speaker, Dr Ken Price, will explore the Web 2+ technologies that also have so much to offer education, and he will be supported by presentations by the Saturday Keynote Speaker, Lindy McKeown, and by a long list of locals.

Lindy McKeown: What is that 'plus' in 'NXTGEN ICT - The Next Generation - Web 2+' about ?

Lindy McKeown: Action Learning in Second Life

Yvonne Harrison: What is Second Life?

Yvonne Harrison: Beginning Your Second Life

Paul Fuller: Podcasting in the Classroom

Paul Fuller: Creating School 2.0

Mike Leishman: Wikis for group and classroom collaboration

Rensche Diggeden: Think Collaboration

Paul Reid: Empowering inquiry based learning with Web2.0 mash-ups

Paul Reid: Using the new edublogs.org 2.0

Robin McKean and Raelene Beecher: Mix I.T. Up

Trevor Galbraith: RIDSP - Rockingham Innovative Digital Schools Project

Kim Flintoff: Online Sites for Generative Play

Robin Hutton: Flickr as a tool in the classroom

Mark Stephens and Brett Clarke: Introducing and Managing Web 2+ Portals for a School-based Setting and lots more....

For full details of the programme and presentations follow the 'programme' link from <http://www.ecawa.asn.au/home/conference07/index.htm>

More information about the ECAWA 2007 State Conference, Keynote Speakers, presentations and workshops, as well as a registration form etc can be found by following the link from www.ecawa.asn.au or by going straight to <http://www.ecawa.asn.au/home/conference07/index.html>

Alternatively, call Gillian Skeggs on 0402 005 049 or Lynley McKernan on 08 9450 0618.

Delegates, enter the draw for a chance to win a $3000 av media systems Interactive Whiteboard for your school!

Special offer:

Register two or more delegates from the same school in the next week and pay only the EARLY BIRD registration rate!

The best Conference this year! Don't miss this opportunity. Register now!