Questions aren't just Questions

Your teacher will be looking closely at the reflection section of this sheet

List some things that you would like to know about students at our school. List some of these things, eg play football and have had a serious ankle injury.

Turn some of the things you have listed above into true false questions to survey your peers. Plan how you will collect the data. Show your teacher the survey questions and plan. Now do it.

Reflection

Did any information that you obtained surprise you?

Was your survey correct the first time or was there a way in which you could have improved it?

If you could change it or include one other question to help you get a good picture of students at your school what would it be?
